Information Delivery Policy (Spam Policy)

1. What is spam?

At Aspiri A/S, we define spam as any form of unsolicited and unwanted communication sent in bulk, typically with commercial or misleading content. This includes, but is not limited to, emails, contact form submissions, comments, and similar messages.

2. Our position on spam

Aspiri A/S has a zero-tolerance policy toward spam. This means it is strictly prohibited to use our website, systems, or services to send spam in any form.

Aspiri A/S only sends emails and communications to users who have given their consent to receive them. This may occur through newsletter sign-up, account creation, or by actively requesting to be contacted.

3. Consent and Unsubscribing

All users who receive emails from us have actively opted in. If you no longer wish to receive communications from us, you may unsubscribe at any time by:

- Clicking the unsubscribe link at the bottom of our emails
- Changing your email preferences (see section 4 below)
- Contacting our customer service directly at info@aspiri.dk or by phone at +45 88 27 17 87

We respect and comply with all applicable laws and regulations regarding consent and communication, particularly those outlined in the Danish Marketing Practices Act and the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

4. Managing Email Preferences

As a user, you can always manage and edit the types of information you wish to receive via email and SMS from us.

This can be done under the menu item "Settings for receiving information from Aspiri via email and SMS":

Please note: It is not a condition for completing a purchase that you agree to receive emails, including promotional emails, or advertisements via social media.

5. Enforcement and Consequences

Aspiri A/S actively monitors and audits its systems to prevent misuse. If we detect any attempt to use our platform for spam-related activity, we reserve the right to:

- Suspend or terminate user accounts
- Block IP addresses
- Report violations to the relevant authorities

Aspiri A/S complies with all applicable laws and regulations concerning electronic communication and data protection, including:

- The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)
